Aid Wanted for Road Protection

We have on divers occasions referred to the Canyon City Road Guard, and the pressing necessity which exists for some unanimous and prompt action on the part of our citizens to relieve the road to Canyon City from the terrible scourge with which it is infested. The city of Portland is certainly no less interested in this matter than any place above on the Columbia and we hope our merchants will lend their aid to perfect a movement already inaugurated at the Dalles to raise an amount of money sufficient for the arming, and mounting of the volunteers under Capt Olney. Already the citizens of that place have a little more than $2,000, and an equal amount in addition is required. Mr Joseph Elfelt, of the Dalles, has been deputed by a committee of citizens there to solicit subscriptions towards making up the sum, and has arrived in this city for the purpose. We hope his call upon our merchants will meet with a ready response. It has been suggested that a public meeting be called, at which this matter may be brought directly before the people. The idea is a good one, and should by all means be acted upon right speedily. The success of this volunteer expedition will not only secure the protection of the road on which they propose to operate, but will open up one of the finest agricultural and mineral regions in the whole Northern country. Once cleared of Indian foes, instead of the trade of one mining community with a thousand consumers, every few miles will present a thriving population, requiring large supplies, and possessed of ample means to pay for what they have. Every day these obstacles to travel are permitted to exist, defers the date of settlement and prosperity in a large tract for an indefinite period. It will not do for our people to lose control of the market in that section of the State, and they are likely to do so unless prompt and energetic measures are taken to change the present condition of things. Already a road has been opened from Red Bluff, California, to Canyon City, and we must expect that every advantage which can redound to them at our expense will be taken, and when they once succeed in diverting the channel of commerce through California, instead of by way of Columbia river, we may not be able to reclaim it. The whole Northern trade belongs to us, but if we cannot control it by reason of hostile Snake or other Indians, we cannot complain should other and safer avenues be opened by which the country may be supplied.

The Fourth at Vancouver

Notwithstanding the indications of continued rain which ushered in the day, the Anniversary of our National Independence gathered a large and enthusiastic party of both sexes at Vancouver for its observance. At half past eight, A M, it became apparent that the steamer Senator would be unable to accommodate the vast throng, citizens of Portland, who desired to participate in the celebration with our sister city, and accordingly the steamer Relief was chartered, made fast alongside, and the two boats, crowded with passengers, glided past the city front, down the Willamette and up the Columbia to Fort Vancouver, where the living, double freight, was received with every demonstration of a generous hospitality. Portland was represented by Co A, O S M, Capt Powell, a large delegation of the Fire Department under Chief Engineer Buchtel, assisted by the several company Foremen, the Hibernian Society with their magnificent banners, the Fenian Brotherhood, and several hundred ladies and gentlemen in citizens' dress. The visitors having been received by appropriate and corresponding bodies, the procession was formed, extending one third of a mile in length, escorted by the Brigade Band. One of the attractive features of the parade was a car twenty five feet long, covered with evergreen, and occupied by young girls, with banners, representing every State and Territory, while on an elevated seat at the rear of the car was the Goddess of Liberty, supported by Temperance, Fortitude, Prudence and Justice—a most happy thought and admirably expressed. After proceeding by the route previously determined upon, the procession halted at the grounds prepared for the celebration. A voluntary by the band was followed by a national salute, fired by U S Artillery troops which for rapidity and regularity was highly creditable to that branch of the service. The oral exercises commenced with an eloquent appeal to the Throne of Grace by Rev J O Raynor succeeded by the reading of the Declaration of Independence, by J D Potter, Esq. The Orator of the Day, Gen. Alvord, was then introduced, and delivered an able address, demonstrating that his literary were not surpassed by his military attainments, and that his patriotism was of the practical kind. A few regular toasts were given and responded to but owing to the lateness of the hour the majority of them were [illegible] and the company repaired with sharpened appetites, to the well filled tables. More than two thousand persons fared sumptuously off the generous viands, and still there was enough left for more if required. The Portland Societies and Companies were escorted by the Vancouver troops and band to the landing where a social time was had generally before they embarked. Our firemen having with them the first engine and hose carriage ever landed at Vancouver at the request of many citizens they set to work throwing one, two and three streams, much to the delight of the spectators and to their own credit. At five P M, the last boat for Portland had departed but a large number of guests still remained to participate in the dance gotten up by the Ladies Sanitary Aid Society. Metropolitan Hall was filled to its utmost capacity for dancing which continued until daylight on the fifth when, Capt Turnbull having returned about midnight with the Senator, many of the guests started for home. We understand that by their efforts during the day and evening the patriotic ladies of Vancouver have added near five hundred dollars more to their Sanitary Fund contributions. They are glorious and true women. We have never attended a celebration which gave more universal satisfaction. The arrangements of the committees were perfect, harmony and good feeling everywhere prevailed, no reception could be more cordial, hospitality more generous, or parting more regretful and the visit to Vancouver will be long cherished among the pleasantest memories of a thousand guests. In acknowledging the public spirit of Capt Turnbull who chartered the steamers for the excursion we but express the sentiment unanimously entertained by the happy multitude of excursionists.

THE 'BANK OF CALIFORNIA.'—A long felt want throughout the entire commercial province of the Pacific coast has just been met by the establishment in San Francisco of an extensive and safe banking house, under the name of the 'Bank of California.' The articles of incorporation are signed by twenty three of the most prominent and wealthy men of California, and duly filed. The requirements of trade here, under the impetus received by additional discoveries of rich and permanent mines, demanding the services of an increased mining population and larger stocks of goods and machinery for their maintenance, renders extended credits, both upon goods and cash loans indispensable, and thus our business community must derive a share of the benefit resulting from such an institution in California. The usury laws of Oregon, which prohibit the collection of more than one per cent per month interest, operate to send our merchants abroad to effect loans or receive the market value of capital. So long as trade will justify an interest exceeding the rates fixed by law at home, just so long will all the benefits that accrue from negotiating transfers of capital on bond and mortgage be enjoyed abroad. Bankers will not loan money at one per cent here, when it commands and there is no legal obstacle in the way of receiving a higher rate of interest below. Our men of unemployed means will not keep their capital here for the sake of paying taxes thereon when by depositing it in an institution like the Bank of California, with a cash capital in its vaults of two millions in gold, they receive greater returns than the local law permits them to realize after all the trouble and risk of negotiation. Upon the character of the new institution, we quote from the S F. American Flag, as follows:

> The present Banking firm of Donohoe, Ralston & Co will be dissolved on the 1st July prox but not only is no capital to be withdrawn from the service of the public, but a large amount hitherto otherwise employed will be added thereto. The retiring partners Messrs Jos A Donohoe and Eugene Kelly, with handsome cash means, will immediately commence business in their new and elegant banking house on the corner of Montgomery and Sacramento Streets, while the business of the old firm under the direction of the remaining members Messrs R S Fretz and Wm C Ralston, will become merged in an institution to be called the 'Bank of California' with a very important enlargement of capital and resources, quite unrivalled on this coast. This will be the first joint stock company incorporated under the laws of this State for the purpose of banking, and in referring to it we cannot but express our gratification upon a few prominent points. First that it will start [illegible] a specie basis, the currency of California—gold and silver, it is to be no paper money bank. Second the capital stock which we understand is to be $2,000,000, will actually be paid up in gold such at least is the programme—no subterfuge in the shape of Stock Notes or any thing of less value than gold itself. Thirdly it will be under the conduct of some of our most experienced and wealthy citizens—men of sound heads and long purses who have achieved success for themselves individually are well known and familiar with the business of the country and whose connection with the Bank is a guarantee to the public that it will succeed and be a public benefit a safe place of deposit, and an institution where a solvent business man with good securities may reasonably expect accommodation in time of need.
> The business managers of the concern will be Messrs D O Mills and Wm C Ralston.

THE FOURTH IN WASHINGTON COUNTY.—We learn that an unexpectedly numerous crowd was gathered in Hillsboro on Monday, people coming as well from Columbia County, from Chehalem, from Yamhill, as from all the region around and making a gathering estimated at over two thousand. Excellent arrangements were made for their accommodation as well as for their abundant supply of the creature comforts, which the Fourth of July suggests. Rev E Walker, of Forest Grove, was President of the day, Rev S H Marsh officiated as chaplain most appropriately. W D Hare read the immortal Declaration of Independence, and Hon Amory Holbrook, as orator, spoke boldly of the rights and duties of American citizens, and of the responsibilities which press upon all. The Hillsboro band furnished fine music and the fire works in the evening under the care of Mr Hughes were admirable and showed his capacity to do his work well.

The Senate has passed a bill granting the veto power to the Governor of Washington Territory with the usual proviso that a majority of two thirds of both branches of the Legislature shall override the veto. Such a power, for some reason, has hitherto been withheld.

E R Fisk has been appointed examining surgeon of the Enrolling Board for the district of Oregon in place of Bowlby resigned, and B T Wilson is appointed Commissioner of the same vice Drew, resigned.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to June 28.

NEW YORK June 28—A Fortress Monroe letter of the [illegible] says all news from Plymouth [illegible] edition at North Carolina to destroy the [illegible] [illegible] ked for [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] the road and rebel [illegible] captured a large number of prisoners and [illegible] each other [illegible] The country is stripped [illegible] the inhabitants.

The Herald's correspondent writing from City Point says A assault was made the [illegible] on the 5th and 9th corps which was repulsed with a great [illegible].

The Tribune's special says Dana Assistant Secretary of War reports [illegible] more [illegible] [illegible] as strong as [illegible] Our losses in the movements [illegible] Grant is confident of conclusive success. We have 10,000 prisoners yet in our hands.

A special to the Times writing from headquarters dated the 24th says from movements of [illegible] lately a very mysterious there appears to be a general movement to our left. [illegible] [illegible] and 6th corps moved to counteract any such [illegible] demonstration. The 6th corps was [illegible] on the Weldon Railroad to day. The road has not been used by the rebels for several days.

The [illegible] papers [illegible] says the Danville road was cut by Hunter yesterday and speak of Hunter as being at Salem.

The Herald's special at City Point says the attack on Sheridan's cavalry day before yesterday while marching from the White House to James river was a determined and bloody affair. The rebels made what was considered ample arrangements to capture his guns trains and most of his command. The details of the affair has not transpired. It is known however the enemy fell upon the brigades composing the rear guard with great fury. At first they threw them into confusion many rallied and held the enemy in check until the balance could be brought to their support when a general battle ensued between our mounted and dismounted cavalry and the enemy's cavalry, infantry and artillery. Sheridan acted on the defensive and repelled several most desperate assaults which could possibly be made. His light artillery brought into play admirably checked the rebels. At short range, grape canister and musketry proved very effective in ending the conflict. He succeeded in beating them though greatly superior in number and resumed his march to James river without the loss of a gun or wagon. Our killed wounded and missing may reach 500, among whom are five Colonels.

FORTRESS MONROE, June 28.—Sheridan's cavalry succeeded in crossing the James river during yesterday afternoon. The light wagon train alone was 6 miles long. Our cavalry numbered some six thousand.

NEW YORK June 28.—The Tribune's special at the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, the 26th P M says the enemy is in strong force in front, exhibiting a determination to resist every attempt of our men to advance to the possession of the Petersburg Railroad which is of such vital importance to them that only the utmost skill and bravery will enable us to wrest it from them.

The World's special says we have not the possession of the Weldon Railroad yet.

The Herald's Bermuda Hundred correspondent of the 25th says the situation of the enemy to day in relation to Gen Foster at Jones neck is somewhat menacing. A reconnoissance resulted in some pickets firing. The gunboat Hunchback has just opened on the enemy who were discovered throwing up earthworks near Four Mile Creek. After several rounds the enemy left their works.

The World's special dispatch dated Washington June 28th, says rebel deserters continue to come into our lines reporting demoralization among the officers. Lee has sent two brigades of cavalry and infantry to operate against Hunter. The endurance of the rebel troops is giving way in forced marches to defend the different points menaced by our forces. Diseases of various kinds prevail to a fearful extent. It is estimated that the rebels have from 4,000 or 5,000 sick on their hands, whom they find impossible to remove beyond the scene of conflict besides this population 200,000 are dependent on them for food.

The Herald's City Point correspondent of the 27th says Gens, Wilson and Kautz, who were expected to do great damage around Lynchburg have not yet been heard from.

The Herald's 9th corps correspondent says our loss in the rebel attack Sunday night, did not exceed six wounded. The rebel loss is severe, as their skirmish line marched right against our breast works.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—A telegram from Gen Hunter says:

"I have the honor to report that my expedition has been extremely successful, inflicting severe injury on the enemy and have been victorious in every engagement but running short of ammunition and finding it impossible to collect supplies while in the presence of the enemy whose numbers were believed to be superior to ours, and were constantly receiving reinforcements from Richmond and other points I deemed it best to withdraw and have succeeded in doing so without any serious loss. My command is in excellent condition and will after a few days rest, be ready for efficient service in other directions."

(Signed) STANTON

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Richmond Enquirer of Friday says that Hunter retreated to Newcastle having lost 13 guns.

The Tribune's correspondent says that in the affair of Wednesday, two Massachusetts and two New York regiments were captured entire, the object of the movement in getting possession of the railroads south of Petersburg, was not successful.

WASHINGTON June 28.—The new enrollment and conscription bill passed the House to day by 81 to 75. No commutation provision but substitutes will be allowed. The bill authorizes the President at discretion, at any time to call for any number of volunteers for one, two or three years every volunteer or substitute who may be accepted for one year shall be paid $200 bounty for two years $300, for three years, $400. The bill has yet to pass the Senate but will probably be adopted as the Senate bill is almost precisely the same.

JACKSONVILLE, July 4.—A letter from Fort Klamath June 28th says the expedition under Colonel Drew, for the exploration of a route to Owyhee started from that place that morning. The expedition numbers from 80 to 100 men. Another letter, June 30th 28 miles from the Fort, says W J Allen just arrived reports that John Richardson's train from Shasta Valley numbering 23 men 8 or 10 women and 7 wagons were attacked by the Indians near Silver Lake, 85 miles from Klamath. Lieut Davis from Fort Crook with 10 men fell in with the train and a fight ensued. 2 citizens and 1 soldier was wounded. After the fight Lieut. Davis with Richardson's train returned 30 miles to Allen's Camp. Col Drew immediately sent a guard and an ambulance after the wounded. Considerable trouble is anticipated.

DEATH OF A VETERAN.—Captain John Folsom deceased at Sanbornton Bay, N. H., recently, at the advanced age of almost 94 years having been born at Exeter, N H, June 26 1770. His recollection to the last was quite distinct of the war of the Revolution and of other cotemporaneous events. In politics he was originally an old Federalist, and voted successively for Washington, the Adamses, Harrison, Taylor and Lincoln.

On the first of June there were in the various dock yards war vessels which would be ready for service during this month as follows: Eleven turreted ironclads, eleven steamers, three double enders and one gunboat. There were beside ten others in various stages of progress.

IN EARNEST.—The ladies of Aurora, N T, recently gave a ball for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission and stuck up a placard in the ball room, on which was printed in large letters, "No Admittance to Copperheads." Serves them right.

The ship A M Lawrence, arrived at San Francisco recently from New York, brings several more guns for the Pacific Coast and harbor defences, and 300 tons of ordnance stores.

GENERAL WRIGHT'S FAREWELL.—The following communication has lately been issued by Gen Wright:

HEADQUARTERS, DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC,
[illegible] June 21st 1864.

To the loyal [illegible] of the Pacific coast: On the [illegible] of my being relieved from the command of the Department [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the three years I have been in command. When I first assumed command of the Department embracing the States [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] full of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] by the Government and the following [illegible] communication which I addressed to the Adjutant General of the Army after the expiration of [illegible] [illegible] of my command will exhibit the course I thought proper to pursue and which I have been persistently followed during the whole period of my administration of military affairs on this coast.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC,
SAN FRANCISCO, October [illegible]

Adjutant General United States Army Washington D C.—Sir I have served on the Pacific coast [illegible] years the last year in the command of the Department my duties have called me to [illegible] every section of this great country—from the sunny plains of the South to the fertile lands of our possessions in the North I have been called either to battle with our savage foe [illegible] to aid in the protection of this beautiful land from the horrors of civil war. During this long period I have had ample opportunities of judging of the character of the people and their love for the Union of her [illegible] possessions of the United States.

Previous to the war with Mexico but little [illegible] [illegible] was known [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] adventurous people had found their way across the continent and taken up their abode either in Oregon or California. But when peace was restored and we acquired California and [illegible] with it came the discovery of gold mines exceeding almost all others in richness. It caused a large influx of population. It was not alone from the States of our Union that they came—every quarter of the globe as well as the islands of the ocean contributed its swell the number. It will thus be seen that the country was overrun and occupied by people of [illegible] with them and retaining all their home prejudices and all calculated to establish a colony of loyal citizens eager to promote the prosperity of the country. Time and contact have done much to harmonize and smooth down the discordant elements of this incongruous population. Yet the outbreak of formidable rebellion in our land had a tendency to revive those sectional sympathies and attachments which have prompted men to glory in the fact, not that they are American citizens but that they are from such or such a State to which their paramount allegiance is due. Happily the number of men who thus ignore the authority of the Federal Government and declare their fealty to the State from which they came is small compared with that of the Americans and who love the Union and are willing to risk their all for its preservation.

Such was the character and such the division of sentiment on this coast, when I assumed command of the Department. I saw at once that to overcome these threatening difficulties it was necessary to be watchful vigilant and firm, not to create unnecessary alarm in the public mind by hasty and ill advised acts but to pursue the even tenor of my way regardless of personal consequences and feeling assured that such a course could not fail to secure the respect of political parties of every complexion and ultimately redound to the honor of our Government and country.

If what little I have done has contributed in the smallest degree toward preserving intact our glorious Union and maintaining unsullied our flag I shall feel amply repaid.

It affords me high satisfaction to inform the General in Chief that during all the period of my command in this Department I have received the most cordial approval and assistance from the Governors and State officers as well as from the most prominent citizens.

Very respectfully,
Your most ob't serv't
G WRIGHT,
Brigadier General U S Army Commanding.

Acting upon the principles contained in my letter above recited, I now point with pride to the happy and peaceful condition of this country. Intrusted, as I have been with a high and responsible command far removed from the seat of the General Government I have during the whole period held in my hands the power of peace or war. Had I for a moment yielded to the insane demands of a radical press and its co laborers I should have filled my forts with political prisoners to gratify personal hatred—causing such an outburst of indignation at such a course as to render it almost certain that civil war and bloodshed would have followed.

The Union loving people on this coast are vastly in the ascendant. They have the power and the will to maintain the integrity of the Union on those distant shores. Let every attempt to raise the standard of rebellion within your borders be crushed. Listen not to the insidious arts of a hireling, radical press which under the specious guise of loyalty would not hesitate to gratify its pruriency for fame by doing all in its power to plunge your country into all the horrors of a civil war.

"Be just and fear not
Let all the ends thou aimest at be thy country's,
Thy God's and truth's."

G WRIGHT,
Brigadier General U S Army, Commanding.

TELEGRAPH EXTENSION ON PUGET SOUND TO VICTORIA.—The following is the proposed direction of the Olympia line from (W T) to Victoria, V I. From Olympia to Steilacoom and Seattle, from Sandy Point six miles below Seattle, five miles of submarine cable to Appletree Cove, thence to Port Gamble, and three miles of submarine cable to Whiskey Spit, thence via Port Ludlow, Port Discovery and Port Angelos to the mouth of the Elwha River, thence about ten miles of submarine cable to Beachy Head, and thence on to Victoria. Port Madison, Port Townsend and other places are thus passed by, but they will probably have branches.

There is but one delegate elected to the Nevada Constitutional Convention who is not an out and out Union man.

DIED:

At Umatilla City on the 23d of June 1864 Mr Archibald McKewing aged about [illegible] years a native of Antrim Co Ireland.

A CHEERLESS FOURTH.—The 88th Anniversar our National Independence in Portland was dedly a dull day. After the morning salute, an hurry and bustle attending the departure of the cursionists to Vancouver the city seemed to s down in a very quiet manner, and partake mo the character of a Chinaman's New Year's day, the Fourth of July. A great many supposed it Sunday, and some actually started for Church the evening! The principal business houses of city were closed, the streets, which a few days viously had been dry and dusty, were made muddy, as the sun hid behind a dark murky and obstinately refused to come out, while the a of heaven, as if in sad remembrance of the fat America wept at intervals floods of tears. storms drove the pic nic party away from the Gr and after a short parade in the streets the Com nies composing it retired to their armories justice to the collations there served. The s ea Rival the Wilson G Hunt, and the Senator ar rived from five o clock till seven, each bringing of the Vancouver excursionists which had a ten cy to keep a crowd about the wharves, but on whole it was a cheerless Fourth for Portland.

THE GHOST OF MULTNOMAH.—Yesterday morn at about 10 o clock a phantom steamer passed u front of the city with no visible means of how was propelled which attracted the wondering g of crowds. The word 'MULTNOMAH' appea across the shattered wheel house and the open de revived the memories of what was once the pride the Willamette the steamer Multnomah. Yes it w her. And now we see her 'motive in the prop ler of a small scow on the opposite side, which is by her ruined frame work. Another superannua craft going into oblivion. Her bottom will still above water however, for some time yet, as she been sold to be re-modeled, and will henceforwa to the end of her days, make a very good tow bo The Multnomah was constructed in the East ma of Jersey oak, and is a model hull, put up with caulking, on the principle of a barrel. She been with us for fourteen years, and is still compa atively sound. But her pleasures are over she h done good work, and may be profitable longer, her new capacity.

TREASURE BY THE STEAMSHIP.—The steamsh Pacific, which sailed at six o clock last evening fo Victoria and San Francisco, carried about eight passengers, and treasure to the amount of $217,899 shipped as follows:

Wells Fargo & Co	$1[illegible] 000 00
Ladd & Tilton	18 000 00
Allen & Lewis	9 000 00
Oregon Steam Navigation Co	6 609 00
Elfelt Well & Co	4 000 00
H W Corbett	2,290 00
Total	$21[illegible],899 00

A very small amount of freight was taken by the same steamship, consisting of 13 bales wool, for the California market, 7 tons of flour, 20 kegs of lard and 16 cases of butter, for Victoria.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—The United States District Court, Deady Justice, convened at the District Court rooms in this city yesterday. The following gentlemen were impannelled a Grand Jury: J B Price, J T Bybee, A B Butler, Richard White, O Risley, B Jennings, T G Naylor. The trial jurors are J W J Pierson, N W Tracy, A P Dennison, T J Holmes, Nelson Hoyt, Stephen Blank, J W Cook, Daniel Murphy, C Barrell, J C Carson, Jacob Mayer, B F Cardwell. The case of the United States vs Edward Tichnor, for cutting timber on the public lands, was argued and submitted to the jury last evening.

GOLD FISH.—As parlor aquariums and pretty gold fish have become about as popular in our city of late, as "a love of a cage," and pet canaries, we will give the experience of a "fish fancier," in cases were gold fish are kept in vessels, in rooms, etc. They should be kept in spring water, and the water will require to be changed according to the size of the vessel, or the number of fish kept therein. For instance a vessel that will hold a common sized pail of water, two fish may be kept in by changing once a fortnight, and so on, in proportion. When food is supplied them it should be a few crumbs of bread, dropped into the vessel once or twice a week. It is not well to change the water too often.

DISCIPLINE AND GOOD ORDER.—As the steamers were nearing Vancouver, on the Fourth, Chief Engineer Buchtel had his attention directed to one of the fire "boys," who was getting exceedingly noisy over a too free indulgence in the potent libations of a double distilled article of old rye, when he marched the erring youth into an adjoining state room, and very unceremoniously deprived him of the rights of a fireman, reinstating him in citizen dress. The act was applauded by the whole department present, and is said to have produced a most salutary effect. Portland may well be proud of her firemen, and the proceedings of Monday wreathed new laurels for them.

CAPTURE OF HOYT.—On Friday last Mr Peter Carlisle of this city, obtained facts which led him to the correct belief of which route had been taken by S C Hoyt, with his child, so abruptly removed from the care of Mr Carlisle the day previous, and he immediately gave pursuit. At Salem he learned Hoyt had taken the Stage, under an assumed name and telegraphing to Albany, the Sheriff detained him there until Mr C came up. Hoyt and the child were brought to this city yesterday, and the former will be delivered to the Sheriff of Wasco county to-day, from whose custody he had recently escaped. Hoyt may be a much abused person, worse sinned against than sinning, but "two wrongs never made a right."

PERSONAL.—Among the passengers leaving Portland last evening by the steamship Pacific was Mr R R Thompson and Dr H. H Black. The former goes on a mission for general observation through the various departments of quartz mining operations in Washoe, Esmeralda and other districts, with a view to obtain all the information possible on that subject as he is about to make mining a specialty. The Doctor goes with a view of improving his health, which has been failing greatly for a year past. We wish them both a pleasant voyage, and a realization of their hopes.

THE ESCAPED CONVICTS.—Mr. A C R Shaw, Warden of the Penitentiary, received an inkling of intelligence yesterday, concerning the whereabouts of the escaped convicts, Walton and Martin. From the rumors afloat the probabilities are that they will be soon recaptured, and would have been taken on Thursday, by a little effort on the part of the neighbors, in the country where they were. We since understand that one of the prisoners has been captured at Vancouver. Mr Shaw will settle the rumor to-day by visiting the Fort.

MEETING OF THE COMMISSIONERS.—The County Commissioners met at the Court House yesterday morning. After organizing, and approving of the bonds of Jacob Stitzel, as County Sheriff, H C Coulson, County Clerk, D W Williams, County Treasurer, John Dolan, County Assessor and C W Burrage, County Surveyor, the Board adjourned to meet on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

AN ACCIDENT.—A man by the name of Bastian was so severely injured about the head, by his team, running away in this city on Monday, that an amputation of one ear was necessary. Doctor Chapman performed the surgical operation, and we learn the patient is doing well.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The Circuit Court, Judge Shattuck presiding, closed its session in this city yesterday. A special term will convene on Monday the 15th of August.

COUNTY COURT.—County Court, Judge Marquam presiding, will meet at the Court House in this city to-day, at 10 o'clock A M.

ORANGES.—A B Richardson will offer one hundred boxes of sweet oranges, among a thousand other things, for sale at auction to day.

THE NEW JAILOR.—Sheriff Stitzel yesterday appointed Mr F M Arnold to take charge of the County jail, for the ensuing term of two years.

A WAR OF WORDS.—such as enraged woman can command, was employed last evening on First street, attracting a large crowd of the sterner sex.

Complaints of Children.—In the case of fast-growing and scrofulous children, predisposed to curvatures and other deformities, it is often disagreeable to give a tonic without stimulants, and an alterative without irritation. For such, it would be impossible to select a preparation combining so many of the above advantages as the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life, it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap26d1m

In every age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system, is acknowledged by all.

Be particular to enquire for Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue, and take no other. Sold everywhere.

Grant and the Soldiers.—The confidence of the army in General Grant exceeds any thing ever before witnessed in the field. Every soldier religiously and solemnly believes that the Lieutenant General means, as they phrase it, to "mash the rebellion," and that he will do it; and they tell with the utmost gusto, of the novel method he adopts to bring every man squarely up to the spirit of his own high purpose. The night before the last grand conflict the General went out to the line of skirmishers, and passing slowly along, encouraging the men with [illegible] "boys," "You have never had a fair [illegible] I mean that he said "at these Johnny Re[illegible] can whip them; you shall have it now," [illegible] I am sure you can." [illegible] at that the men cheered; and the [illegible] cry, flying from camp to camp, sent every soldier into the fight of Thursday with a faith in their leader and a confidence in themselves which made them perfectly irresistible. Such charges as these brave men made were never heard of in history; such slaughter as they inflicted on the enemy, crouching in their rifle pits, even the veterans of this royal-souled army of the Potomac never saw nor dreamed of. The soldiers have entered fully into the spirit and purpose of their commander. In one of the first conflicts last week, one of our divisions broke and fell back in disorder. General Grant, riding up, said to the men: "Boys, you may break if you choose, but you must fight in the end. I hav taken up the bridges in the rear; there is no communication with Washington; we must fight the thing out right here." This story has been told me by several soldiers, all of whom exhibited the most unqualified acquiescence in the General's tactics. Another thing the men like in General Grant is his unostentation. "He is like one of ourselves," they say; "he avoids fuss and show; even his staff is limited, and composed of men like himself." "I have more than once," said an orderly to me, while in the glow of conversation about the General, "seen his aids get down from their horses to let wounded men ride to the hospitals." In a word, the spirit of the army is magnificent; it is animated by a sublime determination to succeed, whatever sacrifice success may involve. One poor fellow, whose wounds we cleansed and bound up this morning, actually sobbed with vexation because he could not at once return to the field and continue in the fight until the end.—Virginia War Correspondent.

Eccentricities of the Weather of 1864.—We have endeavored to keep the readers of the Bulletin as well posted as possible as to the meterological phenomena of the most erratic seasons known in the chronicles of California or the Pacific domain. Since the rains of the latter part of May, speaking as to the lower counties, the people there ways began to have hopes that they might have raised sufficient crops of ordinary food for their families and many selected places were fenced and planted. After these rains it was supposed that, according to custom, the winds had blown their great strength out, at least below Point Concepcion; but as we are informed, bitter northern gales made a sudden outburst of hot, violent, noisome tornadoes, to that extent that on the 9th, 10th and 12th of the present month, the whole southern coast, for four and five hours—between 3 and 9 o'clock in the evening—was under a cloud of powdery mist and fog, with a parching atmosphere which ruined the prospects of the farmers. Every green thing was seriously injured, and all kinds of travel rendered as bad, almost, as frequently occurs on the Colorado. Every tenth day these high airs seem to have returned, at least from January 15th last to June 13th.

The drought seems to be felt in something like its California strength on Vancouver Island and the country further north, and has extended east as far as the borders of Kansas and Missouri. It is even heard of as excessive in Hungary, Italy, Greece and Turkey, producing great distress among the poor. And what is very strange, it has become terribly developed in the Southern Hemisphere, as advices, dated February last from the river Platte and Southern Brazil, state that such was the fierceness of the drought there in the latter part of the month (summer with them) that the pasture animals died by thousands. Dust storms, in which houses were unroofed, trees blown down, and thousands of sheep destroyed, had occurred in several places, and many districts were deserted by the search after better pastures. Over hundreds of miles on the frontiers, towards the Andes, pastoral life had resumed its patriarchal form, the shepherds dwelt in tents, fed their flocks on the public lands, watched them in terns by night, and dug wells in their new locations, as did Isaac and Jacob, and the loss in animals was computed by millions of dollars, for the hurricanes of dust had at times suffocated entire bands of cattle and sheep.—S. F. Bulletin.

Foolish Garibaldi Worshippers. — A party of English ladies had arrived at the chief hotel, having come as a deputation from some heaven-knows-what association in England, to see the General, and make their own report on his health, his appearance, and what they deemed his prospect of perfect recovery. When their demand for admission was replied to by a reference to the general order excluding all visitors, they indignantly refused to be classed in such a category. It was in this critical emergency that an inventive genius developed itself. There was amongst the suite of Garibaldi an old surgeon, Ripari, one of the most faithful and attached of all his followers, and who bore that amount of resemblance to Garibaldi which could be imparted by hair, mustache, and beard of the same yellowish red color, and eyes somewhat closely set. To put the doctor in bed and make him personate the General, was the plan—a plan which, as it was meant to save his chief some annoyance, he would have acceded to were it to cost him far more than was now intended. To the half darkened room, therefore, where Ripari lay dressed in his habitual red shirt, propped up by pillows, the deputation was introduced. The sight of the hero was, however, too much for them. One dropped, Madonna-wise, with clasped hands across her bosom at the foot of his bed; another fainted as she passed the threshold; a third gained the bedside to grasp his hand, and sank down in an ecstacy of devotion to water it with tears; while the strong minded woman of the party took out her scissors and cut four several locks of that dear and noble head. They sobbed over him—they blubbered over him—they compared him with his photograph and declared he was libeled—they showered cards over him to get his autograph; and when, at length, by persuasion not unassisted by mild violence, they were induced to withdraw, they declared that, for those few minutes of ecstacy, they'd have willingly made a pilgrimage to Mecca.—Blackwood's Magazine.

An Influential Dwarf.—The Rochester Democrat, mentioning a visit of Joseph Leffel, of Springfield, Ohio, to the former city, says: "He is the smallest business man in the world, and, indeed, quite an item as compared with General Tom Thumb, Mr. Leffel being only 44 inches in height, and weighing but 55 pounds. Mr. Leffel is now 32 years of age. He is an intelligent, able-bodied, handsome featured man, and sports a moustache that would really do credit to the Scotch giant. He has filled the office [illegible] of the [illegible]visor in Springfield, and is regar[illegible] place." most public spirited citi[illegible] Miss Sarah B Bal[illegible] Leffel is about to m[illegible] Mrs. Thumb, and [illegible]ton, who is small[illegible] maid of honor. was formerly [illegible]

[illegible] of the Linnæus rhubarb, a plant Wine; some years ago by a Mr. Wyatt, disc valley of the river Volga, in Russia, has been manufactured last season in some parts of Pennsylvania. It is said to be equal to, if not superior, in taste and flavor, to the pure juice of the Isabella.

It would seem that the body of water in the great chain of inland seas is slowly diminishing. The water along the western shore of Lake Huron has been steadily falling for the past two years, and at this time it is some twelve inches lower than at the same last year.

It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN; and this solution may replace all the proto-carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M. D., Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation it remained almost useless, until Dr Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1856, page 76.)

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER,

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

Full directions accompany each bottle.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged
